bcs code of conduct

Scenario: Ping and her Boss

1. Public interest

- 1.a have due regard for public health, privacy, security and wellbeing of others and the environment

- 1.b have due regard for the legitimate rights of Third Parties

- 1.d promote equal access to the benefits of IT

Naz falsely reported additional $100,000 prices and workload will not only harm Whizz Engineering's economical benefit (1.a), but also violated the client's right to know (1.b).

The workload and the cost are not equal, so it's unequal for the benefits of whizz Engineering (1.d).

2. Professional Competence and Integrity

- 2.a only undertake to do work or provide a service that is within your professional competence

- 2.f avoid injuring others, their property, reputation, or employment by false or malicious or negligent action or inaction.

- Naz does not have the relevant programming skills with the package, it breaks (2.a).

- The client's economic property is injured by false action of project leader (2.f)

3. Duty to Relevant Authority

- 3 b: seek to avoid any situation that may give rise to a conflict of interest between you and your Relevant Authority

- 3 e: NOT misrepresent or withhold information on the performance of products, systems or services (unless lawfully bound by a duty of confidentiality not to disclose such information), or take advantage of the lack of relevant knowledge or inexperience of others

- Ping does not take further action to avoid conflict with her leader and company (3.b)

- The feature which client asks for has already been developed, and it only takes a few easy steps to add this feature, but this piece of information is hidden (3.e)

4. Duty to the Profession

- 4. d act with integrity and respect in your professional relationships with all members of BCS and with members of other professions with whom you work in a professional capacity

- Ping knew the truth and explained to Naz (4.d), Ping is honest to his boss.
